For 30 years the Center for African Studies at the University of Florida has organized annual lectures or a conference in honor of the late distinguished Africanist scholar, Gwendolen M. Carter. Gwendolen Carter devoted her career to scholarship and advocacy concerning the politics of inequality and injustice, especially in southern Africa. She also worked hard to foster the development of African Studies as an academic enterprise. She was perhaps best known for her pioneering study The Politics of Inequality: South Africa Since 1948 and the co-edited four-volume History of African Politics in South Africa, From Protest to Challenge (1972-1977).

In the spirit of her career, the annual Carter lectures offer the university community and the greater public the perspectives of Africanist scholars on issues of pressing importance to the peoples and societies of Africa. Since 2004, the Center has (with the generous support of the College of Liberal Arts & Sciences) appointed Carter Faculty Fellows to serve as conveners of the conference.

Luise White

Luise White is professor of history at the University of Florida. Her most recent book is Unpopular Sovereignty: Rhodesian Independence and African Decolonization (Chicago, 2015). She is currently working on a history of the Rhodesian Army at war, the working title of which is Fighting and Writing: the Rhodesian Army at War and Postwar.

Todd Leedy

Todd Leedy is associate director of African Studies at the University of Florida. Along with his CAS colleague Abdoulaye Kane, he co-edited African Migrations: Patterns and Perspectives (Indiana, 2013). His current research project is titled “Racing on the Rand: A History of Township Cycling in South Africa, 1920-60.”
Jonny Steinberg on...

Why Is Murder Not A Crime In South Africa?

An Answer to an Uncomfortable Question asked in Hargeisa, Somaliland

Jonny Steinberg was born and raised in South Africa. He currently teaches at Oxford University, where he was a Rhodes Scholar in 1995. He is the author of seven books. Midlands (2002), about the murder of a white South African farmer, and The Number (2004), a biography of a prison gangster, won South Africa’s premier non-fiction award, the Sunday Times Alan Paton Award. He is also the author of Sizwe’s Test (2008), a Washington Post book of the year and winner of the Recht Malan Award in South Africa; and Thin Blue: The Unwritten Rules of Policing South Africa (2009).
Conference Schedule

Friday, April 1

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Time</th>
<th>Session</th>
<th>Speakers</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>830 – 845</td>
<td>Coffee/Tea</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
| 845 – 900 | Welcome and Opening Remarks                      | Abe Goldman Director, UF Center for African Studies
Leonardo Villalón Dean, International Center
Luise White Professor, Department of History |
| 900 – 1045  | Crimes Without Courts                            | Chair: Charles Bwenge University of Florida
Neil Carrier, University of Oxford. Quasilegality: Khat, Cannabis and Africa’s Drug Laws
Saheed Aderinto, Western Carolina University. Debating Sexual Innocence: Crime, Sex, and Age of Consent in Colonial Nigeria
Stuart Marks, University of the Free State. Transformations in the Value of Wildlife on a Zambian Frontier |
| 1045 – 1115 | Coffee/Tea                                       |                                                                          |
| 1115 – 100 | Laws and States                                  | Chair: Fiona McLaughlin University of Florida
Elizabeth Thornberry, Hobart & William Smith Colleges. Informal Courts and the Making of South African Criminal Law
Judith Scheele, University of Oxford. Nomads Who Conquered a State: Predation as a Mode of Production
Charles Ambler, University of Texas - El Paso. The Illegal Gin Trade and State Legitimacy in West Africa |
| 100 – 230  | Lunch                                            |                                                                          |
| 230 – 415  | Punishment in Motion, Migration as Crime         | Chair: Akintunde Akinyemi University of Florida
Francis Musoni, University of Kentucky. Tolerated Illegality: Clandestine Migration and Violence in the South Africa-Zimbabwe Border Zone, 1913-1933
Brett Shadle, Virginia Tech. Refugees and Unwelcome Migrants: Humanitarianism and Politics on Kenya’s Northern Frontier, 1910s-1930s
Saturday, April 2

830 – 900  Coffee/Tea

900 – 1045  Crimes With Courts
Chair: Susan O’Brien  University of Florida
Stacey Hynd, University of Exeter. (Re)Constructing Murder: Capital Punishment and the Criminalization of African Bodies in British Colonial Africa, c. 1890-1960
Steven Pierce, University of Manchester. Culpable Identities: Homicide Law and the Politics of Culture in Late-Colonial Northern Nigeria

1045 – 1115  Coffee/Tea

1115 – 100  Prisons, Prisoners, and Politics
Chair: Sebastian Elischer  University of Florida
Alioune Sow, University of Florida. Political Prisoners and Criminal Punishment in Mali

100 – 230  Lunch

230 – 415  Speech, Silence and Law
Chair: James Essegbe  University of Florida
Louisa Lombard, Yale University. Who Can Denounce? A Relational Theory of Manhunting
Allison Shutt, Hendrix College. Slander and Defamation in Federation-era Southern Rhodesia
Nicholas Smith, City College of New York. Criminal Pasts and Political Futures: The Truth and Reconciliation Commission and Post-Apartheid State Building
Participant Biography

Charles Ambler
Charles Ambler has published extensively on the history of leisure, popular films, and mass media, as well as alcohol regulation and labor control in colonial Africa. He is former president of the African Studies Association.

Saheed Aderinto
Saheed Aderinto is a senior research fellow of the French Institute for Research in Africa. His areas of specialization include nationalism, historical method, gender and sexuality, children and youth, peace and conflict, and popular and expressive culture.

James Brennan
James Brennan specializes in urbanization, political thought, and media in East Africa as well as the history of decolonization. He is a recipient of the Bethwell A. Ogut book prize and co-editor of the Journal of Eastern African Studies.

Neil Carrier
Neil Carrier focuses on the anthropology and history of East Africa and its diaspora. He has been working on a project examining the Somali-dominated Nairobi estate of Eastleigh as part of the Oxford Diasporas Programme team. Neil also maintains his interest in the topic of Africa and its drug trade.

Samuel Daly
Samuel Daly currently studies the Nigerian Civil War (1967-1970) and the history of Nigerian citizenship. His areas of previous research include crime and policing in early colonial Abeokuta, and the sexual politics of boxing in 1960s Lagos.
Stacey Hynd
Stacey Hynd works on the histories of law, crime and punishment in Africa. Her current research examines histories of child combatants in modern African warfare and the development of human rights and humanitarian discourses in West Africa, with a particular focus on Ghana.

Abdoulaye Kane
Abdoulaye Kane studies social networks and transnational social spaces in the historical context of globalization, with a focus on Senegal and the Senegalese diaspora in the USA, Europe, and elsewhere in Africa.

Louisa Lombard
Louisa Lombard studies African borderland areas where the state is largely absent, and a range of actors govern. Her research locales, primarily the remote and little-populated eastern reaches of the Central African Republic, are further marked by violent histories that continue into the present.

Stuart Marks
Stuart Marks is a biologist and anthropologist whose work has focused on wildlife management, conservation and human development in Africa. His doctoral work in Zambia with the Valley Bisa culture has been the basis for much of his personal and professional research.

Steven Pierce
Steven Pierce researches in and around the city of Kano, focusing on issues of law, politics, colonialism, social theory, gender, and semiotics. His current project examines the politics of Islamic criminal law in northern Nigeria through scandals over flogging in the early colonial period and through controversies over homicide cases in the late colonial period.
Munyaradzi Munoichiveyi
Munyaradzi Munoichiveyi has researched the histories and lived experiences of Zimbabwean political detainees and prisoners, examining how they challenged and negotiated their incarceration.

Francis Musoni
Francis Musoni focuses on migration, borderlands, informal sector economies and identity formation in southern Africa. I am currently writing a book examining the rise and resilience of illegal migration across the Zimbabwe-South Africa border from the 1890s to the present.

Judith Scheele
Judith Scheele researches trade, mobility and interdependence in Algeria, northern Mali and, more recently, northern Chad. She seeks to understand the local through the many ways in which it is connected to the outside, and thereby to develop a comparative framework for the study of the Sahara as a region.

Brett Shadle
Brett Shadle currently researches the history of refugees in Kenya and has previously published in interpersonal violence and sexual offences in early colonial Kenya. He is the originator and coordinator of the Virginia Tech Africa Coalition.

Allison Shutt
Allison Shutt teaches African history and studies colonial Zimbabwe (Southern Rhodesia). She has published articles on the rural middle class and land tenure, exhibitions, racial etiquette, and the legal and social meanings of insolence. She is currently completing a book on manners and racial etiquette.
Nicholas Smith
Nicholas Smith researches the politics of crime, policing, and vigilantism in African democratic states with an initial focus on post-apartheid South Africa. His additional research projects include an examination of prisoners’ experiences of the operation of political power behind bars, drawn from prison memoirs.

Alioune Sow
Alioune Sow studies sub-Saharan Francophone literature and film with a particular emphasis on memory, memoirs, and narratives in Mali. He is director of the France-Florida Research Institute.

Elizabeth Thornberry
Elizabeth Thornberry studies the history of gender, sexuality and the law in Southern Africa. Her current research analyzes changing conceptions of sexual violence in South Africa’s 19th century Eastern Cape by combining a social history of rape in the colonial period with an exploration of the discursive links between sexual consent and governance in the process of constructing the colonial state.
Carter Conference Themes 1985-2015

2015 Schools of Architecture & Africa: Connecting Disciplines in Design and Development

2014 Kongo Atlantic Dialogues: Kongo Culture in Central Africa and the Americas

2013 The Politics of Permanent Flux: State-society Relations in the Horn of Africa

2012 Health and Development in Africa

2011 African Independence: Cultures of Memory, Celebrations, & Contestations

2010 Bridging Conservation and Development in Latin America and Africa: Changing Contexts, Changing Strategies

2009 African Creative Expressions: Mother Tongue & Other Tongues

2008 Migrations In and Out of Africa: Old Patterns and New Perspectives

2007 African Visual Cultures: Crossing Disciplines, Crossing Regions

2006 Law, Politics, and Society in South Africa: The Politics of Inequality Then and Now

2005 States of Violence: The Conundrums of War in Africa

2004 Movement (R)evolution: Contemporary African Dance

2003 Dynamics of Islam in Contemporary Africa

2002 Zimbabwe in Transition: Resolving Land and Constitutional Crises

2001 Governance and Higher Education in Africa

2000 Renegotiating Nation and Political Community in Africa at the Dawn of the New Millennium

1999 Aquatic Conservation and Management in Africa

1998 Africa on Film and Video

1997 Communication and Democratization in Africa

1995 African Entrepreneurship

1994 Transition in South Africa

1993 Africa’s Disappearing Past: The Erasure of Cultural Patrimony

1992 Sustainability in Africa: Integrating Concepts

1991 Involuntary Migration and Resettlement in Africa

1990 Health Issues in Africa

1989 Structural Adjustment and Transformation: Impacts on African Women Farmers

1988 Human Rights in Africa

1987 The Exploding Crisis in Southern Africa

1986 The African Food Crisis: Prospects for a Solution

1985 SADCC’s Bid for Independence from South Africa: Will it Succeed?
Thank You

Made Possible by Support From:

Center for African Studies
Office of Research
Office of the Provost
US Department of Education
College of Liberal Arts and Sciences